FANS SEE THE NEW PLAYERS IN ACTION

In a game that was interesting only because it demonstrated to a few hundred fans that Ogden has the material in its ball team for pennant winners, the Ogden regulars walloped a lineup of recruits and local players. The score, 25 to 0, tells what sort of game it was but the fans forgot to think of the one-sidedness of the contest when they had the good points of the players to talk about.

With a possibility of a few changes, the regulars were lined up yesterday as they will appear in the league games when the season opens on April 29, as follows:

Fowler and Sinclair, pitchers; Pourroy, catcher; Laird, first base; Wessler, second; Jones, third; Foster, short; Moorehead, left field; Murray, center; Hays, right field. Outfielder Cooper and Pitcher Drysdale of the recruits worked with the Yannisians. Manager "Kitty" Knight was able to leave the hospital yesterday in an automobile and attend the game. It was a pleasant sight for the manager to see his selections from the baseball field throw, bat and handle the ball in a manner that pleased the fans.

With the exception of the second base position, Knight will probably leave the infield as it is. Laird, who has been playing first base, will be given an opportunity to try out at second as Van has arrived in town and will occupy that corner of the diamond.

When the fans saw Jones work at third base yesterday, they were reminded of Jimmy Whalen, not that they want him back, because the manager which Jones handled his position brought the fans to the realization that Jones is a player and will fill the bill to the satisfaction of all.

"Rube" Foster at short fills the weak spot on last year's team and will prove one of the best base runners in the Union association. He handles the stick well, as did all the regulars in the game yesterday. While the regulars of the garden yesterday did not get much to do, it is hard to imagine a better combination than Murray, Hays and Moorehead, and they are all good batters too.

Fowler and Sinclair did the pitching for the regulars and in a creditable manner. Although their opponents were not of the class to make them buckle down to leaguer pitching, they demonstrated that they can twist the ball in a manner calculated to puzzle the batters of the Union association. Sinclair, in addition to other qualities, has the speed of a cannon ball and had some of the Yannisians baffled.

Pourroy won a home in Ogden for his work as backstop. He is able to throw the ball to second without apparent effort and should prove a discouragement to the base stealers of the association. He and Perkins should prove reliable spots on the Ogden team this season.

There was much favorable comment during and after the game upon the youth and vitality of the players. The activity and interest in the game, as shown by the youngsters, attracted the attention of lovers of baseball.

SKYSCRAPERS DEFEAT QUINCY

Salt Lake, April 14—The second game with the Quincy recruits played at Lucas field yesterday afternoon ended 11 to 1 for the local leaguers. Outside of the score it was a pretty fair baseball game. It was fast, there was good fielding, plenty of hits and Morgan for six innings gave one pretty demonstration as to the best method of successfully occupying the mound.

For the first four frames nothing resembling a hit was garnered from the delivery of the husky Cyrus. In the fifth Fox sent one scampering down the first base line that Dressan knocked down but couldn't recover in time. In the sixth Willis got the only clean hit made off Morgan.

The big right hander looked mighty sweet on the firing line yesterday. He was ready to cut loose and he certainly did. Every one carried great gods of smoke and as a fan said, "You can't hit 'em when you can't see 'em." Morgan was as steady as a clock and during the six innings he worked only one man got by first.

Slaughter That's All. Truthfully it can be said that it was a slaughter. Quincy has only one man on the squad who resembles a pitcher—Ralph Willis, the Pacific Coast league veteran. Yesterday Hackett had to send two of his infielders in and fill up the third base position with a local player, Alf Gunn.

Ward essayed to do the flinging, but after three frames the bombardment became so heavy that he retreated and Coudon was sent to the box. Murphy, Dressan and Pendleton did the heavy execution for Salt Lake. Murphy connected with four bingles in five trips to the plate. Dressan hit a double and a home run and Pendleton soured out two two-baggers.

Dressan's four ply swat was the first to be poked out of the lot this year, via the new right field fence, which is some forty feet farther from the plate than it was last year. The clout Leo made yesterday went over with feet to spare.

Givee Schmidt a Trial. With the game 11 to 1 in the seventh McCluskey sent a recruit, Schmidt, to the box. This local youngster got by fairly well, although hit five times in three innings. This, combined with the fact that Quincy had given up hope, makes it appear as if he wasn't ready for fast company.

Dimples used Stripp behind the stick yesterday and the big fellow worked in fine shape. He had his whip working, throwing out three at second and allowing only one stolen base, in a close decision.

Quincy center fielder, pulled off a sensational stunt in the eighth when he came in on Murphy's fly back of second, grabbed it off his shoe tops, rolled over a couple of times and came up with the ball still clutched in his trusty right. The work of Pendleton and Davis at short and second was great.

Between innings McCluskey presented Pop Anson, who was in uniform, with a silver handle umbrella. Dimples collected both teams around him and then gave a little talk. Both his speech and Anson's thanks were in such low tones that no one in the stand could hear. Then in the eighth when the game was on ice, Anson went to bat for Dressan and fanned out on three pitched balls. Then he took his station at first and fortunately nothing came his way excepting a foul that nearly hit him on the head. Billy Davis came over from second but missed by over-running it.

SPORT GOSSIP

Rube Hildebrand writes: "We have a lot of real live members on this baseball team, and believe me, we are going to make McCluskey, Kitty Knight, Blankenship and the rest go some before we get through. Hester has a fine bunch of ball players, not one of them but who is a player from the ground up. Galena is a card and Duffy is showing great form. All in all, seem to be just the right sort. A few more days and we will be in midseason form. Things are looking good to us and we are all anxious for that first game with Salt Lake on April 29."

Cote Cochran, the southern twirler who was with Blankenship for a while last year, will probably not engage in Union association baseball this year. The player, dissatisfied with the terms offered him by Cohn of Spokane, took up his case with the national baseball commission and received support from that body. While the investigation was on Cohn said the twirler to Missoula, but Cochran says he will remain in the southern country this year.

Now that "Jesse" Willard has severed his connection with Charlie Cutler, the latter is busy berating the lanky Kansas hope. Cutler now sides with the twirler.

Never a day goes by now but that one or more carloads of thoroughbreds arrive to take part in the Alan race meet, which will start April 19. Last night L. W. Hicks arrived with his string. Among them are King Elk, which at the close of last season was one of the most consistent milers at the Alan track; Cantem and Melts. With Mr. Hicks was his jockey, Pete Hill, the leading rider of the American turf in 1912. Hill is one of the smallest and youngest horse pilots in the game. Last year he created a sensation by bringing in a number of "long shots" and since then his rise has been steady.

Associate Judge Al T. Dobson is the latest official to put in an appearance. Mr. Dobson acted as associate judge for the last two weeks of last year's Alan meeting and gave entire satisfaction. Mr. Dobson said last night: "Although there will not be quite so many horses at Alan this year the quality will be fully as good. Many high-class racers will be seen here for the first time. I am sure that the public will favor the particular form of betting after it becomes used to the machines."

ITCHING PALMS INJURE PUGILISTS

San Francisco, Apr. 14—How do latter day pugilists compare with those of years ago?

This is a question frequently discussed and never, for obvious reasons, settled to the satisfaction of any one concerned.

There is surely one direction, however, in which a modern champion stands head and shoulders over his prototype of ye olden days. He knows how to capitalize his fighting talents. When boxing with gloves became an established indoor sport a champion was content to strive for a purse. There was a winner's and a loser's end. That way there was an incentive to effort. Now it is all changed.

A man who becomes a champion commands and exercises the right to establish a scale of charges for his services. For tackling an opponent who, in public opinion, is considered his most serious rival, he will name a figure that will make the promoters gasp. For going against a boxer with a slightly damaged reputation he will consent to cheaper terms. If asked to sign with one who he thinks is really dangerous he will name such an impossible sum that the matter will be dropped.

On the Market Page. Things are coming to a pass where a world's champion is more of a subject for the commercial editor than for the man whose specialty is sport jottings. His "quotations" it seems to the writer, should appear in the column devoted to the most prices of No. 1 steers and grain feed hogs.

Luther McCarty, the newest and shakiest world's champion, is no exception to the rule. Some one, presumably McCarty, has arranged a schedule of early summer activities for Luther. As a program of sporting fixtures the thing may lack merit, but as a financial project it is all right.

He'll Grab the Coin. Here's how it reads: For six rounds with Jim Flynn at Philadelphia April 15, McCarty will receive $5,000; for six rounds with Frank Moran at Pittsburgh April 20 McCarty will get $3,000; for 10 rounds with Carl Morris at Kansas City, May 4, McCarty will be paid $4,000; for 10 rounds with Tommy Burns at Calgary, May 15, McCarty will receive $10,000—perhaps more.

In a way Luther is not to blame. He certainly did not originate the existing order of things. Champions have set their faces against a fair division of the prize money for years, and it is so long since there was a winning or losing end to a championship fight that the memory of man scarcely goes back to the occasion.

SCORES MADE BY SALT LAKERS

Salt Lake, April 14—Ray Kingsley led yesterday's shoot at the university range. He broke 95 out of 100 targets, which is a very high percentage. The day was ideal for shooting and there was a record number of scattergun artists competing. L. E. Riter won the club trophy, after tying with E. B. Heagen, L. G. Dinwoodie and H. W. Heagen. In the shootoff of twenty-five birds, Dinwoodie and E. B. Heagen were eliminated. Riter and H. W. Heagen again tied for first, with perfect scores. On the second twenty-five, Riter won the trophy, breaking twenty-five straight. Riter had a handicap of two birds. Dinwoodie, eight birds and both E. B. and H. W. Heagen the same.

The third indicator checking plays in the Western Tri-State league this season will be held by Con Starkell, one of the ex-professional players, umpires and team managers of the northwest. President W. H. Sweet announced last night he had secured Starkell's name to a contract. Before the Washington State league evaporated early last season, Starkell was managing one of the club in it. He finished the year manipulating an ivory checker. When "Honest John" McCloskey was directing in Boise some years ago, he discovered Starkell, developed him into a pitcher and sold him to the New York Americans, but Starkell did not stay and finally drifted west again, playing with many clubs. The other two official umpires of the league are W. J. Burnside and George Meade—Boise news.

Young Mooney of Butte has sent his picture in advance of himself. The photo is that of a sturdy young fellow with the pose of a real fighter. He is a short lad and looks like Young Corbett. He and Terry Brown meet before the Montana Athletic club on Friday night. The pair are evenly matched but the weight will probably be slightly in Mooney's favor.—Great Falls Leader.

RICH STAKES FOR GRAND CIRCUIT

Chicago, April 14—Stewards of the grand circuit have decided that the $15,000 horseman's future, one of the richest stakes of harness racing, shall be decided during the meeting at Kalamazoo, Mich., August 4 to 9, inclusive. Word of the decision was received by the guarantors of the stakes here today.

Among the horses eligible to the main division of the race this year are Macgowan, 2:10 3/4; Peter the Gay, 2:10 3/4, and Lord Allen, 2:11, the three fastest two-year-old trotters of 1912. In the two-year-old trotting division the record yearlings eligible for the stake include Aldred, 2:15 3/4, generally considered the world's champion yearling trotter; Peter Volo, 2:19, and Hester C., 2:21 1/4, the fastest yearling trotting filly of last year. The stake closed in 1910 and first money in the main division will be $7,500.

BUTTE SHUT OUT THE CLERKS

Arthur Merkle's Butter boys of the Union association handed the Clerks a sure enough shutout yesterday afternoon at Spanish Fork. The Butte team played in midseason form, showing splendid team work. The final score stood 19 to 0, with nineteen hits credited to Merkle's sluggers.

Fans who saw the game were agreed that the Butte squad is one of the fastest ever entered in the Union league. The boys were in the game every minute and, in fact, showed bursts of big league speed. Butte will hear close watching in the impending pennant race and should prove one of the contenders for first place.

TY COBB MAY SELL AUTOS SOON

Chicago, April 14—Ty Cobb, champion batsman of the American league, may become a resident of Chicago if he fails to come to terms with the management of the Detroit club, according to a telegram sent by him from Augusta, Ga., today. Cobb replied to an offer of $15,000 a year and an automobile to act as a Chicago agent for an automobile supply company of Logansport, Ind., but he was still negotiating with President Navi of Detroit, but would give a definite answer to the business proposition within 10 days. The firm which seeks Cobb's services recently waned Vincent Campbell, a Boston outfielder, from baseball and placed him in charge of their St. Louis branch.
